University Policies for Students

Policy on Alcohol and Drug Abuse and Drug-free Environment

(https://hrnt.jhu.edu/pol-man/appendices/sectionE.cfm)

Johns Hopkins University recognizes that alcoholism and other drug addictions are illnesses that are not easily resolved by personal effort and may require professional assistance and treatment. Faculty, staff, and students with alcohol or other drug problems are encouraged to take advantage of the diagnostic, referral, counseling, and preventive services available throughout the university. Procedures have been developed to assure confidentiality of participation, program files, and medical records generated in the course of these services.

Substance or alcohol abuse does not excuse faculty, staff, or students from neglect of their employment or academic responsibilities. Individuals whose work or academic performance is impaired as the result of the use or abuse of alcohol or other drugs may be required to participate in an appropriate diagnostic evaluation and treatment plan. Further, use of alcohol or other drugs in situations off campus or removed from university activities that in any way impairs work performance is treated as misconduct on campus. Students are prohibited from engaging in the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of alcohol or other drugs on university property or as a part of university activities.

It is the policy of Johns Hopkins University that the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, or use of controlled substances is prohibited on the university property or as a part of university activities. Individuals who possess, use, manufacture or illegally distribute drugs or controlled dangerous substances are subject to university disciplinary action, as well as possible referral for criminal prosecution. Such disciplinary action of faculty and staff may, in accordance with the university policy on alcohol abuse and maintenance of a drug-free workplace, range from a minimum of a three-day suspension without pay to termination of university employment. Disciplinary action against a student may include expulsion from school.

As a condition of employment, each faculty and staff member and student employee must agree to abide by the university Drug-Free Workplace Policy, and to notify the divisional human resources director of any criminal conviction related to drug activity in the workplace (which includes any location where one is in the performance of duties) within five days after such conviction. If the individual is supported by a federal grant or contract, the university will notify the supporting government agency within 10 days after the notice is received.

Policy on Possession of Firearms on University Premises

(https://hrnt.jhu.edu/pol-man/appendices/sectionF.cfm)

The possession, wearing, carrying, transporting, or use of a firearm or pellet weapon is strictly forbidden on university premises. This prohibition also extends to any person who may have acquired a government-issued permit or license. Violation of this regulation will result in disciplinary action and sanction up to and including expulsion, in the case of students, or termination of employment, in the case of employees. Disciplinary action for violations of this regulation will be the responsibility of the vice president for human resources, as may be appropriate, in accordance with applicable procedures. Any questions regarding this policy, including the granting of exceptions for law enforcement officers and for persons acting under the supervision of authorized university personnel, should be addressed to the appropriate chief campus security officer.

Policy on the Privacy Rights of Students

(Full policy: jhu.edu/news_info/policy/ferpa.html)

The Johns Hopkins University complies with the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-380), as amended, and regulations promulgated thereunder. Eligible students, as defined in the regulations, have the following rights: (1) to inspect and review their education records, as defined in the regulations; (2) to request the amendment of their education records if they are inaccurate or misleading; (3) to consent to the disclosures of personally identifiable information in their education records except to the extent permitted by law, regulation, or university policy; and (4) to file a complaint with the United States Department of Education if the university has failed to comply with the requirements of law or regulation. Copies of the university’s policy on Family Educational Rights and Privacy are available from the Registrar’s Office or may be accessed on the JHU website.

Annual Security Report

In accordance with the Crime Awareness and Campus Security Act of 1990 (P.L. 102-26), as amended, and regulations promulgated thereunder, the university issues an Annual Security Report, which describes the security services at each of the university’s divisions and reports crime statistics for each of the campuses. Copies of the report are available from the university’s Security Department, 14 Shriver Hall, 410-516-4600.

Equal Opportunity/Nondiscrimination Statement

(https://webapps.jhu.edu/jhuniverse/administration/minutes_policies_reports/policies/equal_opportunity_statements/)

The Johns Hopkins University admits students of any race, color, gender, religion, age, national or ethnic origin, disability, marital status or veteran status to all of the rights, privileges, programs, benefits, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the University. It does not discriminate on the basis of sex, race, color, gender, marital status, pregnancy, ethnicity, national origin, age, disability, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, veteran status, or other legally protected characteristic in any student program or activity administered by the University, including the administration of its educational policies, admission policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic and other University-administered programs or in employment.

Questions regarding Title VI, Title IX, and Section 504 should be referred to the Office of Institutional Equity, Wyman Park Building, Suite 515, Telephone: 410-516-8075, (TTY): 410-516-6225.

Anti-Harassment Policy

(weapps.jhu.edu/jhuniverse/administration/minutes_policies_reports/policies/anti-harassment/anti-harassment_policy.pdf)

A. Preamble

The Johns Hopkins University is committed to providing its staff, faculty and students the opportunity to pursue excellence in their academic and professional endeavors. This opportunity can exist only when each member of our community is assured an atmosphere of mutual respect. The free and open exchange of ideas is fundamental to the University's purpose. It is not the University's intent in promulgating this policy to inhibit free speech or the free communication of ideas by members of the academic community.

B. Policy Against Discriminatory Harassment

1. The University is committed to maintaining learning and working environments that are free from all forms of harassment and discrimination. Accordingly, harassment based on sex, gender, marital status, pregnancy, race, color, ethnicity, national origin, age, disability, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression*, veteran status, or other legally protected characteristic is prohibited. The University will not tolerate harassment, sexual harassment or retaliation in the workplace or educational environment whether committed by faculty, staff, or students, or by visitors to Hopkins while they are on campus. Each member of the community is responsible for fostering civility, for being familiar with this policy, and for refraining from conduct that violates this policy.

2. For purposes of this policy, harassment is defined as:
   a. any type of behavior which is based on sex, gender, marital status, pregnancy, race, color, ethnicity, national origin, age, disability, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, veteran status, that
   b. is so severe or pervasive that it interferes with an individual's work or academic performance or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive working or academic environment.

3. Harassment when directed at an individual because of sex, gender, marital status, pregnancy, race, color, ethnicity, national origin, age, disability, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, personal appearance, veteran status, or any other legally protected characteristic may include, but is not limited to: unwanted physical contact; use of epithets, inappropriate jokes, comments or innuendos; obscene or harassing telephone calls, emails, letters, notes or other forms of communication; and, any conduct that may create a hostile working or academic environment.

4. Sexual harassment, whether between people of different sexes or the same sex, is defined to include, but is not limited to, unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, sexual violence and other behavior of a sexual nature when:
   a. submission to such conduct is made implicitly or explicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment or participation in an education program;
   b. submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for personnel decisions or for academic evaluation or advancement; or
   c. such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive working or educational environment.

5. Sexual harassment may include, but is not limited to: unwelcome sexual advances; demands/threats for sexual favors or actions; posting, distributing, or displaying sexual pictures or objects; suggestive gestures, sounds or stares; unwelcome physical contact; sending/forwarding inappropriate emails of a sexual or offensive nature; inappropriate jokes, comments or innuendos of a sexual nature; obscene or harassing telephone calls, emails, letters, notes or other forms of communication; and any conduct of a sexual nature that may create a hostile working or educational environment.

6. Retaliation against an individual who complains of discriminatory harassment under this policy, is strictly prohibited. Intentionally making a false accusation of harassment is also prohibited.

C. Responsibilities Under this Policy

The University is committed to enforcement of this policy. Individuals who are found to have violated this policy will be subject to the full range of sanctions, up to and including termination of his/her University affiliation.

1. All individuals are expected to conduct themselves in a manner consistent with this Policy.

2. Staff, faculty and/or students who believe that they have been subject to discriminatory harassment are encouraged to report, as soon as possible, their concerns to the Office of Institutional Equity, their supervisors, divisional human resources or the Office of the Dean of their School.

3. Individuals who witness what they believe may be discriminatory harassment of another are encouraged to report their concerns as soon as possible, their concerns to the Office of Institutional Equity, their supervisors, divisional human resources or the Office of the Dean of their School.

4. Complainants are assured that reports of harassment will be treated in a confidential manner, within the bounds of the University’s legal obligation to respond appropriately to any and all allegations of harassment.

5. Managers, including faculty managers, who receive reports of harassment should contact human resources or the Office of Institutional Equity for assistance in investigating and resolving the issue.

6. Managers, including faculty managers, are required to implement corrective action where, after completing the investigation, it is determined corrective action is indicated.

7. The University administration is responsible for ensuring the consistent application of this policy.
D. Procedures for Discrimination Complaints Brought Within Hopkins

(The current procedures can be accessed at: web.jhu.edu/administration/jhuoie/sexual_assault.html.)

Inquiries regarding procedures on discrimination complaints may be brought to Caroline Laguerre-Brown, Vice Provost for Institutional Equity for the university; or Allison J. Boyle, Title IX Coordinator and the Director for Equity Compliance & Education, Wyman Park Building, Suite 515, Telephone: 410-516-8075, TTY: Dial 711.

Policy Against Sexual Harassment

(webapps.jhu.edu/jhuniverse/administration/minutes_policies_reports/policies/sexual_harassment_policy/sexual_harassment_policy.pdf)

A. Preamble

The Johns Hopkins University is committed to providing its staff, faculty and students the opportunity to pursue excellence in their academic and professional endeavors. This can only exist when each member of our community is assured an atmosphere of mutual respect, one in which they are judged solely on criteria related to academic or job performance. The university is committed to providing such an environment, free from all forms of harassment and discrimination. Each member of the community is responsible for fostering mutual respect, for being familiar with this policy and for refraining from conduct that violates this policy.

Sexual harassment, whether between people of different sexes or the same sex, is defined to include, but is not limited to, unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, sexual violence and other behavior of a sexual nature when:

1. submission to such conduct is made implicitly or explicitly a term or condition of an individual’s employment or participation in an educational program;
2. submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for personnel decisions or for academic evaluation or advancement; or
3. such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual’s work or academic performance or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive working or educational environment.

Fundamental to the University’s purpose is the free and open exchange of ideas. It is not, therefore, the University’s purpose, in promulgating this policy to inhibit free speech or the free communication of ideas by members of the academic community.

B. Policy

The University will not tolerate sexual harassment, a form of discrimination, a violation of federal and state law and a serious violation of university policy. In accordance with its educational mission, the university works to educate its community regarding sexual harassment.

The University encourages reporting of all perceived incidents of sexual harassment, regardless of who the alleged offender may be. Individuals who either believe they have become the victim of sexual harassment or have witnessed sexual harassment should discuss their concerns with the university’s equity compliance director. Complainants are assured that problems of this nature will be treated in a confidential manner, subject to the University’s legal obligation to respond appropriately to any and all allegations of sexual harassment.

The University prohibits acts of reprisal against anyone involved in lodging a complaint of sexual harassment. Conversely, the university considers filing intentionally false reports of sexual harassment a violation of this policy.

The University will promptly respond to all complaints of sexual harassment. When necessary, the university will institute disciplinary proceedings against the offending individual, which may result in a range of sanctions, up to and including termination of university affiliation.

Complaints of sexual harassment may be brought to Caroline Laguerre-Brown, Vice Provost for Institutional Equity for the university; or Allison J. Boyle, Title IX Coordinator and Director for Equity Compliance & Education, Wyman Park Building, Suite 515, Telephone: 410-516-8075, TTY: Dial 711.

Sexual Violence Policy

(webapps.jhu.edu/jhuniverse/administration/minutes_policies_reports/policies/sexual_violence)

The Johns Hopkins University is committed to providing a safe educational and working environment for its faculty, staff, and students. The University is particularly concerned about the increase in reports of sexual offenses occurring on the nation’s campuses. The University has adopted this policy addressing sexual violence (includes sexual assault) in order to inform faculty, staff, and students of their rights in the event they are involved in an incident of sexual violence, and of the services available to victims of sexual violence. Members of the University community who are the victims of, or who have knowledge of, an incident of sexual violence occurring on University property, or occurring in the course of a University sponsored activity (including academic, educational, extracurricular, athletic or other programs), or perpetrated by or against a member of the University community, are urged to promptly report the incident to campus authorities identified in this policy.

This policy applies to all members of the University community, including, but not limited to students, faculty and staff, and also applies in certain instances, to certain third parties (e.g., visitors, volunteers, vendors, and contractors while on University property, participating in a University sponsored activity, or providing services to the University, applicants for admission to or employment with the University, and former employees of the University). All academic and administrative units of the University (including all schools, divisions, departments and centers) must comply with, and ensure that their policies and procedures comply with, this policy.

“Sexual violence” encompasses sexual assault (see examples below) and is a form of sexual harassment. Sexual harassment, which is a form of discrimination, violates federal and state law and University policy (see the University’s Policy Against Sexual Harassment).

Sexual violence includes physical sexual acts that are performed against a person’s will or where a person cannot give consent. A person may be unable to give consent to a sexual act for a number of reasons, including, but not limited to: if he or she is physically or psychologically pressured, forced, threatened, intimidated, unconscious, drunk, or drugged; due an intellectual or other disability or health condition; or by operation of laws governing the age of consent. Physical resistance need not occur to fulfill the definition of sexual violence. Examples of sexual violence include, but are not limited to:

- Sexual intercourse or other sexual acts that one party says “no” to;
- Rape (including “date rape”) or attempted rape;
- Someone touching, fondling, kissing, or making any unwanted contact with your body;
- Someone forcing you to perform oral sex or forcing you to receive oral sex; or
- Sexual assault, sexual battery, or sexual coercion.

Persons who are the victims of sexual violence may pursue internal University disciplinary action against the perpetrator in accordance with the University’s Procedures on Discrimination, Harassment, Sexual Harassment and Sexual Violence Complaints. The University’s disciplinary process may be initiated by bringing a complaint of sexual violence to the attention of a Dean, department chairman or director, supervisor, divisional personnel office, security officer, administrative officer, or the University’s Title IX Coordinator:

Baltimore, MD 21202
Telephone: 410.234.4605 or 410.234.4600

For security contacts at other University locations, please call Lt. Mark E. Long, Investigations Section, Homewood Campus Safety and Security, at: 410.516.6629.

Campus security will arrange for transportation to the nearest hospital. Victims in Baltimore City will be taken to Baltimore City’s designated rape treatment center: Mercy Hospital, 301 St. Paul Place (410.332.9000). Mercy Hospital is equipped with the State Police Sexual Assault Evidence Collection Kit. Victims in other cities will be taken to a local hospital designated as a rape treatment center. Persons who are victims of sexual violence will also be advised by campus security of their option to file criminal charges with local police of the jurisdiction where the offense occurred. Campus security and the University’s Title IX Coordinator will provide assistance to a complainant wishing to reach law enforcement authorities. Information on local and state law enforcement units and databases maintained by them is available on the Homewood Campus Safety and Security website.

The University will provide counseling to any member of the Hopkins community who is a victim of a sexual violence, and also will provide information about other victim services. Students can seek the assistance of counseling through their divisional counseling offices, and members of the faculty and staff can seek assistance through the Faculty and Staff Assistance Program (FASAP).

A student who is a victim of sexual violence may request a transfer to alternative classes or housing if necessary to allay concerns about security. The University will try to accommodate the request if such classes and housing are reasonably available.

The University reserves the right to independently discipline any member of the student body, staff or faculty who has committed an offense of sexual violence or other assault whether or not the victim is a member of the University community and whether or not criminal charges are pending. Disciplinary actions against students accused of sexual violence will be processed by the appropriate student affairs office of the School or campus attended by the accused student in accordance with the University’s Procedures on Discrimination, Harassment, Sexual Harassment and Sexual Violence Complaints and established disciplinary procedures pertaining to the School in which the student is enrolled. Disciplinary actions against staff members will be governed by the University Procedures and procedures set out in the University’s personnel policies. Disciplinary actions against members of the faculty will be processed by the offices of Dean of the appropriate academic division according to the University Procedures and procedures established by that division.

Both a complainant and the person accused of a sexual violence will be afforded the same opportunity to have others present during a University disciplinary proceeding. Attorneys, however, will not be permitted to personally participate in University disciplinary proceedings. In cases alleging a sex offense, both the complainant and the accused will be informed of the disciplinary board or panel’s final determination with respect to the alleged sex offense and any sanctions imposed against the accused. The University will, upon written request, disclose to the alleged victim of any crime of violence or a non-forcible sex offense, the report on the results of any disciplinary proceeding conducted by the University against a complainant who is the alleged perpetrator of such crime or offense with respect to such crime or offense.

The disciplinary measures which may be imposed for a sexual violence offense will vary according to the severity of the conduct, and may include expulsion of a student from the University and termination of the employment of a member of the staff or faculty.

Photography and Film Rights Policy
(jhu.edu/news_info/policy/photography.html)

The Johns Hopkins University reserves the right from time to time to film or take photographs of faculty, staff, and students engaged in teaching, research, clinical practices, and other activities, as well as casual and portrait photography or film. These photographs and films will be used in such publications as catalogs, posters, advertisements, recruitment and development materials, as well as on the university’s website, for various videos, or for distribution to local, state, or national media for promotional purposes. Classes will be photographed only with the permission of the faculty member.

Such photographs and film—including digital media—which will be kept in the files and archives of The Johns Hopkins University, will remain available for use by the university without time limitations or restrictions. Faculty, students, and staff are made aware by virtue of this policy that the university reserves the right to alter photography and film for creative purposes. Faculty, students, and staff who do not want their photographs used in the manner(s) described in this policy statement should contact the Office of Communications and Public Affairs.

Faculty and students are advised that persons in public places are deemed by law to have no expectation of privacy and are subject to being photographed by third parties. The Johns Hopkins University has no control over the use of photographs or film taken by third parties, including without limitation the news media covering university activities.
