The Center for Language Education (CLE) was established in 1992 and presently offers foreign-language courses in Arabic, Chinese, Hebrew, Hindi, Japanese, Korean, and Russian.

The CLE also offers, non-credit English as a Second Language (ESL) courses, English for International Teaching Assistants (ITAs), and a Summer Intensive English Language Program for visiting students. The Summer Program consists of classes in Oral Communication, Academic and Professional Writing, Accent Reduction, and Grammar/TOEFL Preparation.

Grading and Course Progression for Languages Offered by the Center for Language Education
CLE language classes may be taken satisfactory/unsatisfactory only at the intermediate level and above. A student earning below C+ in a course is not eligible to pass to the next higher level course. Students are granted credit for each semester course successfully completed, regardless of enrollment or performance in a subsequent course.

AS.370.602. Accent Reduction. NA Credit.
This course focuses on improving students’ perception and pronunciation of American English through learning articulation, phonetics, and phonology. Students learn the basics of anatomy of speech production in order to understand how difficult sounds and sound contrasts are made. Students also learn the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA) to help them distinguish sound contrasts that are difficult depending on the individual students' native languages. Moving beyond individual sounds, students learn how sounds change depending on what word or phrase they appear in and when they appear in fast or colloquial speech. Finally, students learn and practice intonation appropriate for various types of statements and questions.

AS.310.316. First Year Classical Chinese: Philosophers, Poets and Fantasists: An Introduction to Chinese Literature in the Original Classical Texts. 3.0 Credits.
We will read arguments, anecdotes and stories, beginning with the philosophers of the ancient period, including the imaginative paradigms of the Daoist writer Zhuangzi, and continue with the strange writings allied with shamanism and goddess-worship. We will continue with the fantastical writers of the medieval world and finish with anecdotes of the strange from the Ming and Qing. Because this is a language as well as a literature class, in addition to literary content and social history as background, we will emphasize grammar and vocabulary. Class preparation will require language exercises, translations, readings in English and there will be a final translation/research paper.
